

Says Germany Planned To War Against U.S. In 1940; Stalin's Death, Jap Plot

By WES GALLAGHER
Nurnberg, Nov. 21 (AP) — Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor opening America's case against the 20 Nazi war lords facing the International War Crimes Tribunal, said today the Germans planned as far back as 1940 to attack the United States.

He said Nazi records also disclosed that the Japanese planned to assassinate Soviet Marshal Stalin in 1940, through the use of Russian traitors.

In rapid fire order the 20 once-powerful war lords pleaded innocent to charges of engulfing the world in a bloodbath. Jackson promised in his opening 20,000-word statement to the court that the defendants would be convicted by the Nazis' own meticulously kept records.

The four-power international tribunal sitting in judgment adjourned the morning session at 11:25 a. m. (5:25 a. m. EST) after hearing the pleas from the Nazi defendants.

Blast Defense Hope
The court knocked the main defense prop from under the Nazi chieftains when it abruptly denied their claims that they could not be tried for war guilt under existing international law.

The pleas of innocence were entered in a hectic 10 minutes with responses varying from the dog-like bark of "no" from Rudolf Hess, Hitler's one-time deputy, to a passionate reply of "not guilty in the eyes of God" from Baldur von Schirach, Hitler youth chief.

The dramatic high point of the morning session was reached when Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, called the defendants forward one by one, warning them to plead merely innocent or guilty and to refrain from speeches which they would be permitted to make later.

Despite the warning, Hermann Goering, stripped of his medals and insignia as German reichsmarshal, lumbered to the microphone with a prepared speech in his hand, and attempted to read it.

Presiding Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence halted him. Then, with an angry grimace, Goering intoned: "I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

He waddled back to his seat. Hess barked "no" was officially recorded as "not guilty." The court has not yet ruled in Hess' sanity, but since he was permitted to plead it was assumed he would be tried with the rest.

Reading from German records, Justice Jackson said that German General Falkenstien wrote on October 29, 1940, that "the fuhrer is at present occupied with the question of occupation of Atlantic islands with a view to prosecution of the war against America at a later date."

In March, 1941, Jackson said, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, issued a secret directive that "the fuhrer has ordered instigation of Japan's active participation in the war."

CHAMBER PICKS 3 DIRECTORS; NEW INDUSTRY

Election of three directors, announcement that a new industry will soon locate in Gettysburg, and extension of bond sales on the new Inductive Equipment corporation to prospective investors not previously approached high-lighted the membership dinner of the Chamber of Commerce at the Blue Parrot tea room Tuesday evening.

Ralph Z. Oyler, John D. Teeter and C. O. Schweizer were elected directors for terms of three years each. Six were nominated, Mares Sherman, Joseph E. Codori and Nick Meligakes being named in addition to the three elected. Mr. Sherman and Mr. Codori declined to be candidates, Mr. Sherman declaring that he had served three terms and believed that the chamber should "have some new blood."

Directors whose terms expired were Mr. Sherman, Mr. Oyler and Mr. Codori. There were no nominations from the floor. Glenn Guise and Earl Forney acted as tellers.

Shoe Company Coming

Henry W. Garvin, president of the chamber, presided, and announced the new industry was made by E. W. Thomas, chairman of the industrial committee. The New Oxford Baby Shoe company of New Oxford, he said, has taken a ten-year lease on the former Webb printing plant, East Middle street, and will move to Gettysburg as soon as the premises can be vacated. D. C. Blosser is manager of the firm.

The plant, Mr. Thomas said, would employ approximately 20 persons from White Hall, New Oxford and Littlestown, and has plans for future expansion, employing Gettysburg residents. Much of the credit for bringing the new industry here was given by Mr. Thomas to Robert Berkheimer.

Mr. Sherman, chairman of the bond-selling group reported that $10,000 of bonds on the new Inductive Equipment corporation remained to be sold, and would be offered to general investors. He said sales to date had been made to business and professional residents of Gettysburg.

Underwrite $17,500 More
Originally planned at $85,000, the building will cost $92,000 because of increased construction costs. Mr. Sherman said. Amount paid in to date is $58,100 and an additional amount of $7,300 has been subscribed but not paid, he added. At a special meeting of bondholders Monday night $17,500 more was underwritten, making a total of $82,900 paid in or subscribed.

Reference was made at the meeting by Mr. Berkheimer to the following item from "Out of the Past" from the files of the Star and Sentinel and the Gettysburg Times, published in The Gettysburg Times Tuesday, November 20:

"Named in his honor: Conductor M. A. Garvin, of the Reading Railroad, has a son about three months old. His name is Henry Watterson Garvin, named in honor of the distinguished editor of the Louisville (Ky.) 'Courier Journal.' Last week the boy's parents received as a present from Mr. Watterson a solid silver cup, lined with gold, and a silver spoon. The spoon has his initials and on the cup is the inscription 'Henry Watterson Garvin from Henry Watterson.' Mr. Garvin met Mr. Watterson last February during the blitzard, when they were snowbound a few miles north of town."

The clipping was read by Mr. Berkheimer, with appropriate remarks and felicitations to Mr. Garvin, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The business meeting, attended by more than 40 members, followed the serving of an excellent turkey dinner.

E. G. GRAB ASKS STATE BOARD FOR "PARDON"

The State Board of Pardons is being asked to remove the "stain" of a criminal record in the life of Eugene G. Grab, Sr., Harrisburg street, in a petition for clemency which has been filed at Harrisburg by the defendant's counsel, Sidney B. Friedman, Esq., of Harrisburg.

Mr. Grab, who failed recently in an attempt to have the Adams county court reverse its disposal of the case, makes frequent references to "anti-Semitic" attacks made upon him in the chain of events leading to his arrest by state police last February for carrying a firearm without a permit.

In his petition for a pardon, Mr. Grab, who is 58 and says he enjoys a national reputation as a chemist in food processing operations, claims that his "criminal record" in this county is a "fatal handicap in securing high grade employment."

"Exemplary Life"
He states further that he is "heartbroken at the thought of 58 years of decent, upright living being stained by a criminal record, the result of an innocent misconception of my rights and my feeble ineffective attempts to protect myself from the vicious, unprovoked physical assault."

"I believe I live an exemplary life," Mr. Grab tells the Pardon Board in his petition.

Through friends, he states, he has secured employment with the Capital company of Washington, D. C., at Royersford, Pa.

Was Knouse Official
The petition to the Pardon Board, executed by Mr. Grab a week after Judge W. C. Sheely filed his opinion in the case refusing Grab's petition of a special writ, apparently has only recently been filed with the state board for District Attorney J. Francis Yake has just received notice of the filing.

The petition indicates that Mr. Grab, who was a former vice president of the Knouse Corporation at Peach Glen, has paid $150 to Mr. Friedman to represent him before the Board of Pardons.

The petition for clemency is scheduled to be heard in December. Grab pleaded "no defense" to the gun charge but sentence was suspended on condition that he pay $250 and the costs to the county. The gun was confiscated.

Smith is charged with stealing $980 from the complainant's home on various occasions between November 15, 1944 and June 3, 1945. Of the total, $750 was taken on the latter date, according to the information.

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Admiral J. O. Richardson today quoted the late Secretary of Navy Knox as telling him he was relieved as commander of the fleet in 1941 because he had "hurt the feelings" of President Roosevelt.

Richardson told the Senate-House committee inquiring into the Pearl Harbor disaster that Knox told him in Washington March 24, 1941, after Richardson was succeeded by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel:

"The last time you were here, you hurt the President's feelings."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked Richardson, who said he had argued previously with the President against keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, if he knew how he might have hurt Mr. Roosevelt's feelings.

"It would hurt my feelings if a senior subordinate under me disagreed with me and I couldn't make

In gratitude for all His love.

And autumn's glorious, golden close.

And, oh, be thankful for your friends!"

Eisenhower Is Chief Of Staff; Was Commander Of Camp Colt

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Army and Navy underwent a major shift in top commands today in the midst of an inter-service scrap over proposals to merge them.

President Truman announced the biggest shake-up in the defense departments since before the war, with these four changes:

1—General of the Army George C. Marshall, 64-year old army chief of staff, retires, to be succeeded by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 55.

2—Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, who will be 67 Friday, retires as chief of naval operations, and Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz, 60, takes his place.

3—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, 52, who recently was acting Allied supreme commander of the Mediterranean theater, succeeds Eisenhower as commanding general of the American forces in the European Theater, commander-in-chief of the U. S. occupation forces in Germany, and U. S. representative on the Allied control council of Germany.

Spruance In Pacific

4—Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, wartime commander of the 5th fleet who has been described by associates as a "cold-blooded fighting fool" becomes commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet in place of Nimitz. He is 59.

Mr. Truman said Gen. Brehon Somervell, commander of the army's service forces, and General of the Army Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, had asked to be relieved, too, but he had not consented to their retirement at this time.

He said both Marshall and King had sought retirement after Japan surrendered but that he had prevailed on them to stay until now.

Asked about the difference in views on the army-navy merger—with Eisenhower favoring it and Nimitz now opposing—Mr. Truman said he would state his own attitude in a message to Congress and after that all will be in the same boat. He did not amplify.

In a formal statement, the President said Marshall feels that his primary duty of directing the mobilization, training and employment of the wartime army has been completed and that decisions bearing on "an interim and postwar army" should be made by a successor.

Lands Marshall

Mr. Truman reiterated his view that Marshall "is the greatest military man that this country ever produced—or any other country, for that matter."

Pending Senate action on Eisenhower's nomination, the President named the 55 year old Kansan as acting chief of staff, effective immediately.

Nimitz will return to the Pacific to turn over his command to Admiral Spruance, then return here for a few weeks' rest before taking over King's place.

Immediate reaction on Capitol Hill to the command shifts was uniformly favorable.

McNarney, 52, last old native of Emporium, Pa., last May was given a "large proportion of the credit for the successful conclusion of the Italian campaign" by Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander, in conferring on McNarney the order of knight commander of the bath.

Spruance was in charge of the Gilbert and Marshall islands invasions and of the carrier task force hits at Truk, the Palau islands and the Marianas.

TRIAL OF WAR CRIMINALS IS HOPEFUL SIGN

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The other day there died in Tennessee a man named Luke Lee. One of the high points of his very active life (he was soldier, publisher, senator) was an attempt to kidnap the Kaiser.

Colonel Lee and a handful of picked followers essayed the capture of the German emperor in Holland shortly after the end of World War One because all the Allied bluster about trying war criminals, and the shouts of "hang the Kaiser," proved to have been the thumping of an empty tub. Lee and his colleagues decided to take the matter into their own hands.

The colonel was living ahead of his time. Today—a generation later—the Nuernberg trials are under way, and a score of Nazi leaders are facing judgment for the part they played in Hitler's assault on humanity. The other day Josef Krammer, the "beast of Belsen," and twenty-nine others were convicted by the British at Lueneburg for the horrors of the Belsen and Oswiecim concentration camps. And Japan's war-lords are being brought to book.

Right Direction
These trials, as I see it, mark a world movement in the right direction. It's difficult for you and me, as we think of loved ones lost in this cruel war, to see good coming out of such a conflict. But it is indeed a hopeful sign that the world should rise up and declare itself against the crime of war.

Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief prosecutor for the United States at Nuernberg, declared in his opening address before the tribunal: "The real complaining party at your bar is civilization."

Well, what does that mean? It means that at long last world consciousness has been aroused and solidified against the barbarism of war. It means that the time has arrived when right-minded folk of all countries can combine against a common menace. It's one of the signs that we are approaching real world unity.

Different Situation
A generation ago the world recognized that Germany's aggression was wicked and ought to be punished. But international politics kept nations from carrying out their duty—there was no unity of purpose.

However, this second World War has brought the forces of good and of evil out into open conflict in which there can be no quarter. We are set for the greatest house-cleaning our globe ever has seen.

But the war has done more than that. It has reduced the world to the size of a crab-apple in-so-far as international relations are concerned. Henceforth we must operate as one community, and this means that law and order must be maintained as a community interest. Hence the trials of those charged with war crimes.

Trusty Testifies In Murder Trial

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21 (AP)—A state prison trusty's testimony that he had worked frequently in the apartment house where Mrs. Leon G. Kennedy, Jr., Monday was brutally slain injected a mild sensation today into Santa Fe's murder mystery.

Mrs. Kennedy, 22, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Canning, of Denver. Her husband is chief bookkeeper in a Santa Fe bank and son of the vice president of the First National bank in Denver.

ORDER NATIVES FROM BATAVIA

Batavia, Nov. 21 (AP)—All native troops under Dutch control were ordered today to withdraw from Batavia in a drastic move by the Allied Netherlands East Indies Command, in the wake of what an Allied communique called "serious outbreaks of disorder" in the Java capital during the past several days.

There was no immediate amplification of the order, which apparently affected Ambonese troops. These troops have been employed by the Dutch to guard the governor's palace, Dutch barracks and other Dutch property. They have been riding about in trucks and pointing tommyguns at crowds in defiance of British protests. The Indonesian Nationalist claim the Ambonese were guilty of indiscriminate shooting, and charged the native Dutch troops had set fire to numerous Indonesian compounds.

Meanwhile, a comparative lull settled over embattled Soerabaya. A dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland said, however, that the British threw a fairly strong artillery barrage at Indonesians south of the city for several hours last night.

HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Nov. 21 (AP)—As it must with all champions, Joe Louis has come to vaudeville.

The heavyweight boxing king yesterday played his first stage engagement, at the Orpheum Theater, last fortress of vaudeville in Los Angeles. He was the next-to-closing act on a bill that included a dance team, a magician, a male quartet and a puppet show. While it is too early to judge Joe's comedy talents, it may be said that Bob Hope, Jack Benny and Fred Allen need have no cause for anxiety.

Joe was teamed with Leonard Reed, a comic whose build gave rise to a number of Sinatra gags. Joe exchanged banter with Reed with an assuredness that surprised the capacity audience. While his delivery was unprofessional, he was never at a loss for words and several times a smile came across his face. Four years in the army have changed Joe.

The champ closed the act with something he was much more at home doing—punching the bag.

Says Germany

when he shouted "no."

Justice Lawrence said his reply would be entered as a plea of not guilty.

The court called Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, still shaky from his near-collapse yesterday. "Not guilty," he announced.

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel: "Not guilty."

Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg: "I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

When the roll of the accused Nazi leaders had been called and all the defendants had pleaded innocent, Lord Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding justice, ruled that Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Nazi security chief who was unable to appear because of a cranial hemorrhage, would be tried in absentia.

Tightens Rules
The court recessed for 15 minutes when the tribunal considered the contention of Alfred Thoma, counsel for Rosenberg, the official philosopher of the Nazi party, that he had been barred from consulting his client last night and consequently could not enter a plea.

Lord Justice Lawrence tightened the rules for trial procedure when he ruled in answer to another protest, that counsel cannot talk to defendants in court except by written note.

Justice Jackson, in a 20,000-word statement to the court, asserted: "They have subjected their European neighbors to every outrage and torture, every spoliation and deprivation that insolence, cruelty and greed could inflict."

"They have brought the German people to the lowest pitch of wretchedness, from which they can entertain no hope of early deliverance. They have incited domestic violence in every continent."

World Destruction
He said the real complaining party in the trial was civilization, which "is still a struggling and imperfect thing."

"It does not plead that the United States or any other country has been blameless of the conditions which made the German people easy victims of the blandishments and intimidations of the Nazi conspirators."

"But it points to the dreadful sequence of aggressions and crimes I have recited—it points to the weariness of the flesh, the exhaustion of resources and the destruction of all that was beautiful or useful in so much of the world, and to greater potentialities for destruction in the days to come."

The motion challenging the validity of the proceedings asked that the tribunal "secure from internationally recognized experts on international law an opinion about the legal basis for this trial."

Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, promptly denied the motion, which was filed by German counsel representing all the accused Nazis except Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, former Reichsbank president.

See Fight Ahead
The attorneys contended that the trial violated the "generally recognized principle of modern criminal procedure," because the Allied powers have made themselves "everything in one: creator of the charter of the penal law, prosecutor and judge."

"That this ought not to be used to be a general legal opinion," the motion said. "The United States of America have always emphasized when international arbitration and jurisdiction was established that the bench should be filled by neutrals or together with representatives of all parties involved."

"In the permanent international court in the Hague this idea has been realized in a manner which may serve as an example."

It seemed apparent that the 20 Hitler henchmen facing the court would make a tenacious fight to escape the fate of common criminals.

NEWHOUSE IS SELECTED MOST VALUABLE STAR

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Hal Newhouse, 24-year-old pitching ace of the world champion Detroit Tigers, today added a second straight American league most valuable player award to his harvest of laurels.

The slim Detroit native who south-pawed Steve O'Neill's Bengals to a pair of series triumphs, including the seventh decisive tilt with the Chicago Cubs, had a runaway in the voting of the Baseball Writers association.

Last year Newhouse just squeezed past teammate Dizzy Trout by four points but this time the talented lefthander polled a 72-point margin over his nearest rival, Second Baseman Eddie Mayo, another important cog in the Tiger machine.

Only once before in the history of the most valuable voting in the junior circuit had a player won the crown two years running. Jimmy Fox did it in 1932 and 1933. He also won it in 1938.

Gets 9 First Votes

Newhouse matched his 1944 point total of 236, receiving nine first place votes from the 24 writers, three representing each city in the league. Mayo's 164 points just shaded George Stinnett of New York who drew 161 for copping the batting title at .309, and showing the way with 33 stolen bases.

Dave Ferriss, Boston's freshman phenom who stepped out of the Army Air Corps to win 21 games in his first shot at the big time, was a strong fourth with 148 points, followed by George Myatt a key man in Washington's pennant drive that just did fall short. Myatt had 98 votes to 94 for Vern Stephens of St. Louis.

Roger Wolff, knuckle balling ace of Washington's strong pitching staff took seventh place with 78 points to 70 for Manager Lou Boudreau of Chicago who missed the last month or so of the campaign due to injuries. George Case of the Senators followed in ninth position with 60 and Paul Richards, the Detroit catcher who was given much of the credit for the Tigers' success, rounded out the first 10 with 35 points.

MAROONS START CAGE PRACTICE

A varsity basketball squad of 17 players has begun drills at Gettysburg high school in preparation for the coming season.

Coach "Bill" Ridinger has two letter-men around whom he hopes to mould a winning combination. The letter earners from last year are George Gorman, playing his third year as a varsity man, and Dick Heintzelman, who is in his second year. Both are seniors and both played forward last season.

Other members of the first string squad include Donald Raffensperger, Joe Hess, Dave Rasmussen, Eugene Cole, Richard Hess, Scottie Mountain, Harold Hand, Jay Hershey, Fred Rodgers, Charles Rodgers, Bob Taylor, Bruce Westerdahl, Galen Keeney, Kenny Fair and Dale Sheffer.

The Maroons face an 18-game card during the coming campaign, opening Wednesday, December 12, against Westminster high on the latter's court.

The first and only home game before the Christmas holidays will be played here Tuesday, December 18, with York high.

ARMY TACKLE STAR OF WEEK

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Army's great line finally landed a hunk of individual recognition this week when Dewitt "Tex" Coulter, mountaineer Cadet tackle, was chosen by the Associated Press poll of the nation's sports writers as "lineman of the week."

The hulking 222-pounder, who has played a whale of a game in each of Army's crushing victories this season, gained the honor in a wild balloting spree in which three of his teammates also were nominated as outstanding in the Cadets' 61-0 triumph over Penn at Philadelphia.

Coach George Munger of the Quakers certified the verdict of the writers by singling out Coulter as the lineman who did the most to push his boys into defeat. His two-word description of Coulter was "just terrific."

Outside of the huzzahs for Coulter and company, the loudest drums were beaten for Ohio State's great guard, Warren Ameling, a previous recipient of the "lineman" award.

As in the case of Army, there was disagreement among the writers as to what lineman played the biggest role in the week's two biggest upsets—Temple's win over Holy Cross and J.C.L.A.'s victory over St. Mary's.

Both Center Mort Hochheiser, who jatted down eight passes, and Guard Mark Dolin were nominated as Temple's main hero up front. Coach Ray Morrison cast a close vote for Hochheiser, calling his play "inspirational." U.C.L.A.'s celebrated right guard, Al Sparlis, divided honors with Ed Taylor, Bruin center, for having contributed the most to the first St. Mary's defeat.

Records Are Out For Service Teams

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Laverne G. "Blondy" Saunders has a word for the odds-makers about the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia, December 1.

Speaking before the touchdown club, the former West Point star and decorated hero who lost a leg in the Pacific war said:

"Points on the service game? Anyone who would give them ought to have his head examined. You can throw all previous scores out the window when Army and Navy meet."

"They're two fine American football teams, and they'll knock hell out of each other in a vigorous, friendly way, which is just the way we want it to be."

Army currently is favored to beat the Navy by up to 30 points.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Out where the fall scores grow! Jack Dittmer, of Eldaker, Iowa, high school, who played in the Esquire boys baseball game last summer, put in a few weeks this fall scoring 218 of his teams 405 points to help win the Upper Iowa conference football title.

And Webster City, Ia., which produced Bill (191 points) Chauncey last fall, came up with another fair scorer this year. Merle Harris, 150-pound quarterback, made 17 touchdowns and passed for four more. And in Utah, Quarterback Bill Green, of Provo, tallied 144 points in eight games, playing only about two-thirds of the time, and heaved eight touchdown passes.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Commenting on the omission of Army and Navy in forming the new "Ivy league"—which isn't a league at all—Yale's Oogie Miller explains: "They are a number of other colleges are great people and we like to play them." (But not this year).

The Piedmont league directors may try to persuade President Ralph Daughton to stay another year before retiring to Congress rather than try to make a choice among about 20 candidates. Columbia's footballers need to score only eight points against Dartmouth Saturday to become the highest-scoring Columbia team on record. Cmdr. George Earnshaw, the old Athletics pitcher, is gunnery officer on the recently commissioned carrier Princeton. George's alma mammy was Swarthmore.

THUMB FUN

Ray Brown, University of Virginia halfback, finds that having only part of a thumb on his left hand doesn't interfere either with his football or his fun. During one game this fall, the referee saw an opposing athlete playfully taking a nip out of a Virginia lineman's arm. "How long has this been going on?" the ref. demanded as he stepped off a penalty. "All the game," said Brown, holding up his appreciative thumb, "look what they did to me in the first half."

SCHOOLS HAVE TITLES UP AT CLOSING GAMES

By TOM SHRIVER

Harrisburg, Nov. 21 (AP)—The scholastic football season in Pennsylvania closes tomorrow with two conference crowns at stake as traditional rivals clash in Thanksgiving Day games.

Allentown journeys to Bethlehem for a Big Fifteen game that will settle the conference championship. Both teams are unbeaten in conference games, but each club has lost one outside fray during the regular season.

Williamsport, third of the unbeaten teams in the Big Fifteen will wait until Saturday to close its season at Steelton, but the Millionaires have little hope of winning the crown despite their perfect record. Under the point system the winner of the fray at Bethlehem will pile up too many points for Williamsport to overcome.

In the Eastern conference two games will have a big bearing on the championship. Larksville, current pace setter will be at home against Luzerne, while Dunmore journeys to West Scranton. A victory for Larksville over the tail-enders will give them the title regardless of what Dunmore does in the season's finale.

Huntingdon, with the Western conference crown clinched last week, winds up a perfect season with Mt. Union and even an upset could not keep the Bearcats from the title.

In other games William Penn and John Harris meet for the Harrisburg city title; Reading goes to Pottsville; Coaldale plays at Lansford; Blythe Township at Minersville; Mahanoy City at Shenandoah; Berwick at Ashland; Carbondale at Blakely; Taylor at Old Forge; Plymouth at Nanticoke; Plains at Hanover Township; and the city title game between Scranton Tech and Scranton Central.

Harrisburg Back In Class B League

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 21 (AP)—The class B interstate league will have eight teams in 1946.

League President Arthur Ehlers said Harrisburg and Sunbury, Pa., had been granted franchises at a meeting here yesterday. Applications from Hazleton, Pa., Freeport, Long Island and Bethlehem, Pa., were rejected.

Both Sunbury and Harrisburg, Ehlers said, were once members of the interstate league.

A proposal to expand the league to 10 teams was defeated because officials felt it "would be too unwieldy."

Hornets Back Home To Recoup Losses

(By The Associated Press) Having taken it on the chin hard and often during a three week tour of the American hockey league, the Pittsburgh Hornets today were preparing to recoup some of their losses in a four game home stand. The Hornets had won their first four games of the campaign and were leading the western division of the loop when they embarked on their unhappy 10-game trip. They won only two tilts, tied two others and lost six including last night's 5-3 licking at the hands of the last place Flyers in St. Louis.

Tonight the second place Pittsburghers, who trail the Indianapolis Caps by seven points, play host to the Buffalo Bisons whom the Hornets have beaten twice in their only meetings.

LUCKMAN AIMS FOR PRO TITLE

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Although he is only tossing for fun, quarterback Sid Luckman of the bedraggled Chicago Bears is headed for his first National football league passing title.

Under the league's grading system, Luckman took the lead by tying Sammy Baugh of Washington in number of completions, 96, and topping him in yardage gained, 1,361 to 1,228, and in touchdown passes, 10 to 7. Baugh, however, has a better percentage of completions, .700 against .530, and has had only two passes intercepted, compared with seven errant Luckman tosses.

Bob Waterfield of Cleveland is third. The battle for individual grounding laurels still is a cozy race between Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia and Washington's Frank Akins. Van Buren has amassed 567 yards in 88 attempts, while Akins has 539 in 104.

Don Hutson, Green Bay's "old Man River" end, has all but clinched the scoring and pass receiving titles. His 89 points on 10 touchdowns and 29 conversions leave Van Buren far behind in second with 66. Hutson has caught 42 passes for 779 yards, compared with 32 receptions for 489 yards by runner-up Steve Bagarius of Washington.

Prize Fighter And Girl Slain In Gotham

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—A prize-fighter and a 16-year-old girl were slain today, the latest deaths in the city's mounting wave of violence and crime.

Al (Bummy) Davis, 30, former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing crowns, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern after he struck one of four men who had held up the place.

The girl, identified by her father as Susan Scanga of Brooklyn, who worked in a dress shop in daytime and went to business school at night, was found dead beside an old shack at the foot of Huron street in Brooklyn. Police said she apparently had been attacked and beaten. Beside her body was her school bag, containing notebooks.

A physician at Kings County hospital said Davis, whose real name was David Davidoff, was shot in the throat and chest.

Recent Foreign Economic Administration surveys indicate that millions of Europeans are living far below the minimum of 2,000 calories a day.

It's Big-It's Beautiful-It's BUICK

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting.

It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built — it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best.

So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes.

We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today.

We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production.

And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's 12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little.

The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised.

It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all — in the lift and life of a Fireball straight-eight that's even livelier than in 1942.

The cars your Buick dealer will have are big. They're beautiful. They're Buicks.

In fact — the best Buicks yet!

SITTER

Well, if anybody asks,
Life has given me varied tasks.
Errand boy I started out,
Ran the neighborhood about;
I've jerked soda from a spout.

Cub reporter. Next in time,
Fixing simple lines to rhyme;
Husband, father, and today
Grandpa with the hair gone gray.
Now a new job comes my way.

When their parents wish to go
To a dinner dance or show,
Lest the children wake in fright,
To be sure they'll be all right,
I'm the "sitter" for the night.

I'm the "sitter" by the fire,
Who for money others hire.
Until 2 a. m. I sit
Guarding them, and I admit
I don't mind the job a bit.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

OTHER PEOPLE'S IDEAS

Little that we say, or write, can be construed as original. We can clothe our thoughts, through words, with our own personality, but what we express has probably been in millions of minds before.

We are borrowers and adapters of other people's ideas. I read in a book of sayings that were expressed by philosophers and wise men 5,000 years ago, yet I find in what they have said nothing that has not been current in the minds of others, ever since, and perhaps before. But we are always stimulated by what other people write or say in speech. It is because of that that we communicate happily with one another.

Only through the interchange of ideas are we enabled to progress. Through the vast number of published books, from the first printing to the present day, ideas have saturated their pages. Minds have been stimulated to think independently and creatively. Better living has been stimulated. Democratic ideas have taken wing to the farthest parts of the earth. To all the thinkers of the earth we owe a debt.

Franklin had an idea and he demonstrated it with his kite. Our great progress in science has been the result of ideas. Every invention has had its inception in an idea. And often new inventions are but improvements on other people's ideas.

We learn by reading and listening—perhaps more by listening than reading. A good listener always goes far. Ideas are the corner stones to all worthwhile enterprises. Whatever success we have we owe to the ideas that we have created, or adapted. We are constantly inspired by other people's ideas, and wherever possible our appreciation should be expressed.

Just think of the multitude of ideas that have had their inception, or birth, in the simple discovery of the possibility of the ordinary wheel! It has revolutionized living, and it is only in its infancy. An endless number of ideas, yet unborn, cluster about this one idea.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject "Likes and Dislikes"

TRUMAN SEES BOMBS RUNNING POWER PLANTS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Left-over atomic bombs can be converted from war to peace.

And some of those that America's atomic energy factories still are turning out today may be used to drive vast new power plants of the future—a future of permanent peace.

That is the opinion of President Truman, who qualifies the conversion possibilities, however, by saying that first the world must arrive at a stage of international security that will assure it against destruction.

The immediate problem is one of confidence among nations, Mr. Truman told a news conference and that takes time. Right now nations everywhere, he added, are paying more attention to domestic troubles and less than they will later on to foreign problems.

Issues Pile Up
However, foreign issues are piling up on the calendars at the State Department and White House.

Creation of a United Nations commission to tackle the problem of atomic energy controls began to shape up as one of the outstanding issues for the organizational meeting of the United Nations at London in January. Mr. Truman said he thought the commission should be undertaken by the assembly rather than by the smaller security council because every country in the world ought to have a hand in it.

The President said he had not yet heard from France, China, and Russia on the proposal put forward by Prime Ministers Attlee, Mackenzie King and himself to have the United Nations undertake to set up atomic energy controls.

Still Being Made
Replying to questions, he said that atomic bombs still are being manufactured in this country for experimental purposes. He did not define these purposes, but he added

LEADERS MUM ON SUCCESSOR TO LAWRENCE

Harrisburg, Nov. 21 (AP)—Pennsylvania Democratic leaders looked to State Chairman David L. Lawrence today for the next move in the search for a man to take the party's helm when Lawrence takes office as mayor of Pittsburgh in January.

Lawrence and Pennsylvania's two senators—Joseph F. Guffey and Francis Myers—have been non-committal on potential candidates for the post, Myers explaining "we intend to confer with leaders of the party in the state before reaching a decision."

G. Harold Wagner, Democratic auditor general who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the party's nomination for governor next year, expressed the belief the mantle would fall to "someone that will be a surprise to everybody."

"I haven't anyone in mind," he added quickly. "In fact, I think the field is still wide open."

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—A man identified by police as Al (Bummy) Davis, 26-year-old former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing titles, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern early today.

The assistant chief inspector's office said Davis was trying to stop four men who robbed the tavern. Davis, whose real name was Albert Davidoff, was shot through the chest.

The boxer, who scored one of the ed in none of the talk about the chairmanship, Wagner indicated he believed Lawrence and the senators would consult with John J. Kane, Allegheny county commissioner, James Clark, Philadelphia Democratic chairman, Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, and himself before reaching any conclusion.

Asked about specific persons mentioned for the post, Wagner said State Senator Joseph Barr of Allegheny is "liked by everyone" and that he has heard the name of Michael Lawler, Lackawanna county commissioner, "freely discussed."

Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

Hollywood, Nov. 21 (AP)—Now that the war is over, Joe E. Brown is again looking after his own career, and his plans for the future involve a six-foot rabbit.

During the war years, Joe made only one picture and devoted the rest of his time to entertaining American troops in all parts of the world. His war record exceeds even that of the indefatigable Hope. But now Joe has to look after himself, too.

"I think there is a definite place in the world for the fool—the guy who makes people laugh," he told me. "Some people have gotten the idea that I have become serious. I am serious about anything concerning the welfare of our servicemen. But I'm still in the business of being funny."

Joe is going to resume that business in "Harvey," the Mary Chase play of the drunk and the imaginary six-foot rabbit, which began a new career for Frank Fay. Joe opens in Columbus Dec. 21 and then plays Cincinnati, St. Louis, Kansas City, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Before opening in Chicago next September, he'll have time to do a picture. His services should be in demand because of the ready-made G.I. audience he commands.

Al Jolson's plans to retire to Florida next year have aroused bitter comment from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, or so it is reported. Al, who is overseeing production of "The Al Jolson Story," has purchased the Lord Tarleton Hotel at Miami, Fla., and intends to spend his future years on the southern sands.

"I think Los Angeles is a great place," he said, "but I have a soft spot for Miami. It's more convenient to New York, for one thing."

WE GIVE THEE THANKS

In the name of the living, and of the dead,
And of those unborn — Lord, bless the bread
Of brotherhood that now we break
In gratitude for Thy sweet sake.

In the name of the living — we thank Thee, Lord,
For deliverance from flame and sword;
For loved ones spared; for the task well done;
For the battle fought — and the victory won.

In the name of the dead — locked deep in sleep
Under alien earth — give us strength to keep Untarnished their dear-bought legacy,
The brave, bright armor of liberty.

And for those unborn — Lord, we lift a prayer
For a wiser world where we all may share
A lasting amity with men.
We thank Thee, Lord, for peace.

Amen.

COMING SOON: A SYNTHETIC TIRE THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

THIS isn't a guess. It's been proved! More than 2000 tests and nearly 17,000,000 miles of the toughest kind of actual road service show that this new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown will outwear prewar natural rubber tires.

New, better rubber

B. F. Goodrich has developed a rubber that's far better than ordinary synthetics. . . . so much better that for months it was a strictly guarded military secret. The new Silvertown made with this rubber wears better and runs cooler. It has greater resistance to cracking—and actually stands bruising and damage from accidents better.

Tire body 35% stronger

An entirely new, stronger cord is used, and more of these cords are used in the top ply. An extra shock-absorbing breaker strip was included. The result: a body 35% stronger for additional resistance to bruises, extra blowout protection. . . . another reason why new B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns outwear prewar tires.

Flatter tread covers more ground

The new Silvertown has a wider, flatter tread. We call it the "road level" tread. It puts more rubber on the road; permits all the tread to share the wear. Result: a further increase in mileage, less scuffing, better distribution of weight, better traction, more safety on the turns.

3 years' EXTRA experience!

18 months before Pearl Harbor, B. F. Goodrich offered tires containing synthetic rubber to American motorists. That was 3 years ahead of any other tire manufacturer. . . . 3 years in which B. F. Goodrich was piling up the extra know-how that is reflected in the coming B. F. Goodrich Silvertown. Soon these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume for shipment to our dealers, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. So take good care of the tires you have—and in the meantime if you have any kind of tire problems, see your nearest B. F. Goodrich dealer. The B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, O.

SINGLE WINGER PETE GRAY MAY QUIT BASEBALL

Nanticoke, Pa., Nov. 21 (P)—One-armed Pete Gray, shipped back to the minors by the St. Louis Browns because he couldn't hit major league pitching, may quit organized baseball in 1946 if his new bosses "don't pay me enough money."

Gray admitted his release to the Toledo Mudhens of the American Association was "kind of expected, but it still caught me by surprise."

"I don't feel too bad about it though," he said. "I wasn't sure the Browns would keep me the full season."

Satisfied Ambition
The skinny outfielder, who lost his right arm when he was six, made the major league grade last year—"my lifetime ambition," he said—when the Browns paid the Memphis Chickies $20,000 for his contract. He was the sensation of the Southern Association in 1944—batting .333, stealing 68 bases and winning the league's most valuable player award.

Gray, who started in left field for the Browns this year, frequently said he would quit baseball before returning to the minors.

He was not that definite today. Lean and lithe and "in good physical condition," Gray asserted he wouldn't report to Toledo if he didn't get a good contract.

Wants Good Money
"I have my mind set on what salary I want and I doubt if Toledo will accept," he said. He refused to divulge how much money he wanted.

Gray was used mainly in pinch-hitting roles in the latter part of the 1945 pennant race. He ended the season with a .223 batting average and reported "the major league pitching sure is tough."

A product of the Pennsylvania sandlots, Gray said he did not know what his plans would be if he quit baseball.

"I'm taking it easy now and will stay at my home here the rest of the winter," he said.

Cupid Scores In Plastic Surgery

Phoenixville, Pa., Nov. 21 (P)—The plastic surgery ward in the army's Valley Forge General Hospital may be no place for Cupid, but battle-scarred Sgt. Louis W. Gerber found his love there.

The 25-year-old Baltimore, Md., G.I., badly burned about the face and head in a plane crash in England, married WAC Technician Laura G. Burdette, of Radnor, Pa., at the hospital yesterday.

"It was one of those things that just had to happen," the pretty lady soldier said.

The WAC met Gerber in the plastic surgery ward where she was an aide and "we gradually fell in love."

"He was somewhat hesitant at first and I had to make him realize that his injuries made not the slightest difference to me," she said.

The pretty, 27-year-old technician helped Gerber overcome his inferiority by telling him about her "pushed-in nose" which was mended in a plastic ward two years ago.

Strong America Not Feared By World

Chicago, Nov. 21 (P)—No other country fears a strong America, says General Dwight D. Eisenhower, and "no decent preparations of our own will be regarded suspiciously by others, because we are trusted."

"A respectfully strong America means to others a willingness on our part to bear our full share of the burdens of preserving peace—not an intention to resort to force for our own enrichment or advantage," the newly designated army chief of staff said last night.

Speaking at the American Legion National Commander's dinner, the five star general urged that the nation maintain strong military forces, emphasized as necessary universal military training and favored unified control of the country's fighting forces.

Infants are not able to focus their eyes accurately until about three months after birth.

Pre-Winter Garden Work

There is still time to spade up soils along a sunny fence row or in suitable parts of the garden where a bed of extra early leaf lettuce may be sown in February or a planting of peas a few weeks later. If the soil is left rough over winter it can be worked quite easily after a few days of sunny weather. Well rotted manure spaded under now will be thoroughly decomposed before spring.

And this suggestion bridges to another—saving dry soil for late winter and early spring use. Gardeners, both flower and vegetable growers, always find numerous needs for dry loam for hotbeds, coldframes, pots, flower beds and other gardening roles when winter leaves the soil wet and cold. Often days and weeks of precious time are saved. While opportunity remains it is wise to store at least one large container of dry, fertile loam in the basement.

If rhubarb clumps have been overlooked, mulch them liberally with coarse, strawy manure. Of course, the crowns should not be smothered or enough manure applied to prevent the ground from freezing. Rhubarb demands freezing. This explains why it does not grow in the south. But clumps like a fall mulch to add nourishment and to shield the crowns from drying winds.

Blackberries, raspberries, dewberries, blueberries, grape vines and rhubarb must be planted early in the spring. This calls for pre-winter preparation of soils. If more organic matter is needed to deepen and lighten shallow and hard soils, turning it under before winter affords more time for it to become well incorporated through the rooting area before planting time. The same advice applies to plans for setting out fruit trees.

Mulches for strawberries are not intended solely in the role most late mulches serve. Strawberry plants expose their fruit buds over winter. These must be protected from freezing. Of course, the mulching material should be light and airy to avoid smothering the crowns and should be removed early in the spring to prevent interference with growth. Straw or hay is recommended, although evergreen branches are beneficial.

Hotbeds and coldframes are needed earlier than average gardeners realize. Many commercial growers have hotbeds busy by the middle of February. Building these important garden adjuncts before winter to have them ready for use when needed is an important step toward a better and more profitable garden.

Sweet corn ear worms spend the winter in pupal cells about 8 to 9 inches beneath the surface of the soil where they dropped from the last ears they fed on. If all sweet corn growers will plow or otherwise stir corn soils before winter to expose these dormant pests, this destructive enemy will be greatly reduced in numbers next year. The worms do not travel, but the flying moths which emerge from the overwintering pupae fly fairly long distances to lay their eggs in corn silks.

Mexican bean beetles and striped cucumber beetles find their winter harbors beneath dead vegetation left on or near gardens. Such waste debris should be gathered now and placed on the compost heap to deny these pests shelter and to utilize the

Bromley Faints After Conviction

Erie, Pa., Nov. 21 (P)—Shortly after his conviction on a charge of first degree murder, Frank L. Bromley, Jr., 23, of Corry, fainted and fell down a flight of stairs at the courthouse here last night, dragging with him a deputy sheriff to whom he was handcuffed.

Bromley suffered bruises. The deputy, H. C. Tompkins, apparently waste material in making organic matter for soil improvement. Cabbage remains should be burned before winter to curb several troublesome diseases and to restrict the green cabbage worm.

was unhurt. The jury, which found Bromley guilty of the April 3, 1942, fatal shooting of Chief Petty Officer Lloyd Wilkinson of North East, deliberated two and one-half hours. Let Us Remember That We Have Much To Be Thankful For—

LET US BE THANKFUL that we attained a decisive Victory—that freedom and decency still live—that America was untouched by destruction—that we had a united will to carry on—that we had leaders of great vision—that we had men and women of courage!

Let us never forget, however, that we barely attained the victory! Let us never forget that Germany was a few months behind us in developing the atomic bomb. Let us never forget that on innumerable occasions in both wars, our battles were won with very slender margins.

Your personal thankfulness for the Victory will be measured by your support of the

"DR. BETTY" HAS FILED CHARGES

Ridgway, Pa., Nov. 21 (P)—Two Shawmut Mining company officials and another employee today awaited court action on charges of forcible entry and detainer and larceny brought by Dr. Elizabeth Hayes, former company physician.

Dr. Hayes declared Shawmut General Manager Frank Lambert, Superintendent David Bell and Francis Erich entered her office in Force, Pa., removed her medicines and other property, and padlocked the door.

Judge Clark K. Dixon yesterday fixed bail at $1,000 for each man on the larceny charge. Justice of the Peace Dr. Eugene Flynn, of Kersey, released the men on $200 bond in the entry and detainer case.

Thomas Gregory, Shawmut at-torney, said the office was needed for a new doctor and that Dr. Hayes had indicated she would not comply with a request to vacate it.

"Dr. Betty," as she is known to some 450 mine families in Force, Byrnedale and Hollywood, quit her job with Shawmut last July 16 in a protest against the sanitary condi-tions under which miners lived. Miners, declaring they would not work without a doctor at hand, walked out and are still on strike. Since then, Dr. Hayes had been treating the 4,000 residents of the area privately. Since she lost her office, she set up shop in the kitchen of one of the Force families.

Speculate Truman May Enter Confab

Washington, Nov. 21 (P)—A pro-posal that President Truman inter-vene in the labor-management con-fERENCE to hasten its seemingly slow progress was reported today.

Persons concerned over what they consider the failure of delegates to grapple effectively with major prob-lems of labor unrest have suggested that Mr. Truman deliver to the con-fERENCE a "yard stick" of the work he expects of it.

This was reported by two public officials well posted on conference affairs, but both unwilling to be quoted by name.

One said the suggestion already had been taken up with Mr. Tru-man, but neither wanted to guess whether the President might decide to step in.

CALLING A HERO

Gallup, N. M., (P)—J. L. Cordova, junior high school janitor, in-terested this newspaper ad:

"I have a family of five and am-plely providing for them through this job. However, I did nothing but work for wages (top prices) to win this war. With this thought in mind I am willing to sacrifice my job to any serviceman who fought and bled for my country and my family. Boys, come and get it."

Los Angeles, Calif., (P)—"You don't know how long it takes to play the nineteenth hole." Superior Judge Frank G. Swain observed when Dora Louella Schuler testi-fied she couldn't figure how her husband was able to play golf as late as 9 p. m.

But he granted her a divorce from William Robert Schuler, a salesman.

The Fourth Mrs. Baker

Chapter 8

(Sunday 9:58 to 10:30 a. m.)
Venable took the chair by the bed and his face relaxed into pleasant lines as he looked at her.

"How do you feel?"
"I'll be all right." She tried to smile but it would not come. Her hands were clasped tightly together and she put them under the cover-let. "Will you give me another pil-low?"

He tucked one under her head carefully and she leaned back more comfortably.

"Mrs. Baker, I want you to tell me what happened at the party last night."

She had expected to be asked about the detective whom she had found on the rug in the foyer. It was with some relief that she be-gan.

"It was all rather theatrical, In-spector, but that is the way actors are. I didn't understand when I was first married but I came to see that most of my husband's friends car-ried roles on or off the stage."

She watched his gray eyes anx-iously. They were clouded and gave no indication of what he was think-ing.

"I tell you that first so you won't put too much meaning in things that happen or what is said."

"Tell me what happened and I'll judge the importance."

His tone was brusque but not un-kindly and she noted with a tinge of surprise that she was not afraid of him.

She gave a brief outline of events as she remembered them—about Robey knocking Jerry down and Alma throwing a glass of wine at Grace. But she gave Robey's own explanation for his attack on Jerry and she didn't try to interpret Al-ma's action. She reviewed her own movements in detail.

"Do you have any idea why your husband asked his two former wives to this party?"

"He probably thought it would be amusing?"

"Did he consult you?"

"No. He never asked me about anything."

"Were you jealous?"

"Why, no. I was too—" She stop-ped. She couldn't say she was too frightened. "—interested," she fin-ished.

"Can you remember how many steps you heard in the salon?" he went on without a pause.

She tried to remember but she couldn't. It had been so quick that she couldn't judge.

The Inspector went to the door and nodded to some one beyond. Then he closed it and came back to the chair. There was the sound of rapid steps on the glass border.

"Does that sound like the same thing you heard last night?"

Julia studied for a moment.

"As nearly as I can remember."

Were you in love with him?" he asked abruptly.

Her eyes dropped from his. "No," she said softly. "But he had saved my life and I owed him something."

"Yes, I read about that," he said gently.

He stood up and walked to the window and back. He seemed to be weighing his next move. She met his glance steadily when he stop-ped beside the bed and looked down at her. The throbbing pain in her head had settled into a dull ache but her mind was alert.

"Mrs. Baker, do you know your husband was killed?"

"No."

"But you think so?"

"You know more about what happened than I do, Inspector. I haven't talked to the others about what they saw."

Venable took a turn to the win-dow.

Which will he be—a stupid police-man or a brilliant detective? she wondered.

A sudden doubt of Doctor Wan-dell entered her head. Why didn't he want her to tell about last night? Whom else was he protecting?

The Inspector sat down by her bed again, and got out a note book. "Where were you born?"

"In Radford, Virginia, on July 14, 1918."

"Where are your parents?"

"My father is dead. He died six years ago. My mother and young-er brother live on a ranch in Wy-oming but, Inspector, please do not mention them. They'll never know about this trouble if I can help it. You see when I finished school here in the East mother wrote and con-fessed she didn't have enough money to send me to come home. That was only last year. It must have been pretty awful for her to do that. I'd been trying to get work in New York—and I had worked some—"

Julia stopped. She was telling more than she needed to and it sounded too melodramatic.

"We don't need to tell that," he assured her gruffly. "About last night," he went on. "We don't know exactly where every one was be-cause they were all moving around. Doctor Wandell said he sent Moore for spirits of ammonia. He had gone into the corridor outside and was looking for Miss Pratt and Moore. Hayes said he had just re-gained enough strength to get off the bed and no one was in the room when he heard Miss Dillard cry out. Miss Dillard had gone into the kitchen to get a glass of water, she said, and had left Baker at the win-dow, leaning out. Steinway and Miss Jarvis were in the cocktail room, sitting at the table. That would explain why they didn't see Miss Dillard going to the kitchen. Mr. Harman was in the study looking at some changes your husband had made in a new play. I don't know where Miss Pratt was or where she'll say she was. I never saw a small party so well scattered as it was at that time."

"My husband was a strong man. Inspector. It would have been im-possible to push him out of a win-dow without struggle."

"He could have been slugged first. An autopsy can't determine that now."

"But he was quick to sense things. He would have known he was in danger."

"He had had a lot to drink."

"I still believe he would have called out before he could be struck."

"Would he if it were a woman?" asked the Inspector.

200,000 STRIKE AT G. M. PLANTS IN 20 STATES

Detroit, Nov. 21 (AP)—The CIO's United Auto Workers union struck the plants of General Motors Corp. today in a walkout aimed at crippling the gigantic producer in order to force a 30 per cent wage rate boost.

The strike, first big authorized peacetime walkout of the UAW-CIO and the union's first such blow at General Motors since the sitdown strike of 1937, began before 11 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

All GM's plants in 20 states, employing close to 200,000 production workers, were ordered out in the long-threatened battle between America's largest labor union and the largest operating corporation.

Flint Hit First

The first reported walkout at an individual plant was at Flint, Mich., where employees left work at the Buick Motors plant. Nearly all had left the plant by 10:40 a. m.

Buick's force had been reduced temporarily from its original estimated 9,000 by a shortage of chassis frames which had stopped the production of Buick cars several days ago.

In meetings at Flint, last night, union members were warned to refrain from violence, but to see that non-union foremen were not permitted to enter the Flint plants.

Local 1075 of the AFL's building trades council notified the Flint UAW-CIO that approximately 1,000 AFL workers aiding in the General Motors reconversion program will walkout in sympathy with the auto workers.

Officials of the Railway Brotherhood told the strikers that a single man posted at track entrances to GM plants will be recognized as a
